Valley children invited to trick or treat for UNICEF

Permission slips to participate in the "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" program will be distributed at Tularcitos School and at the local churches. Collection boxes will be passed out to those who have signed permission in front of the Carmel Valley Library on both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons (Oct. 30-31) from 3 to 5 p.m.

After "Trick or Treating" in their neighborhoods, the youngsters are invited to bring their UNICEF boxes and attend a Hallowe'en party in the multipurpose room of Tularcitos School on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served and a program of top notch entertainment has been planned.

There will be a performance of the Geddis and Martin puppets and dance selections by students of Mme. Olga Ziceva.

Beverly Lyon, popular third grade teacher from All Saints Day School will be mistress of ceremonies. She will also sing and accompany herself on the guitar. A group of her students will offer original songs which they have composed for UNICEF Halloween.

UNITED NATIONS DAY

United Nations Day will be observed with two celebrations on the Peninsula Thursday, Oct. 24; one at Monterey Peninsula College in the library patio at noon, the other in the evening at the Friends Meeting House, 1057 Mescal St., Seaside.

Students from Japan, Indonesia and China will sing songs, natives of Thailand and the Philippines will present dances and members of the MPC International Relations Club will end the student program with folk dancing.

EVENING PARTY

The evening "birthday party" at the Meeting House is sponsored by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. The public is invited to attend both programs.

The local chapter of the United Nations Association plans a walk through Seaside and Monterey sometime during the day, with participants carrying signs to remind the public of United Nations Day.

"THE CAST" of performers for the UNICEF Hallowe'en party gets together. (Standing at top) Ballerinas from Mme. Olga Ziceva's School of Ballet, Susie Senger, Laurie Harris and Chris Cordrey. (Center) Mistress of ceremonies, Beverly Lyon, who also will lead a group of her third grade students from Bishop Kip School in an original UNICEF Hallowe'en song. Flanking Beverly, are master puppeteers, Francois Martin (left) and Ralph Geddis who will present excerpts from "Alice in Wonderland" in addition to other selections. The party will be at Tularcitos School multipurpose room at 7 p.m. on October 31.

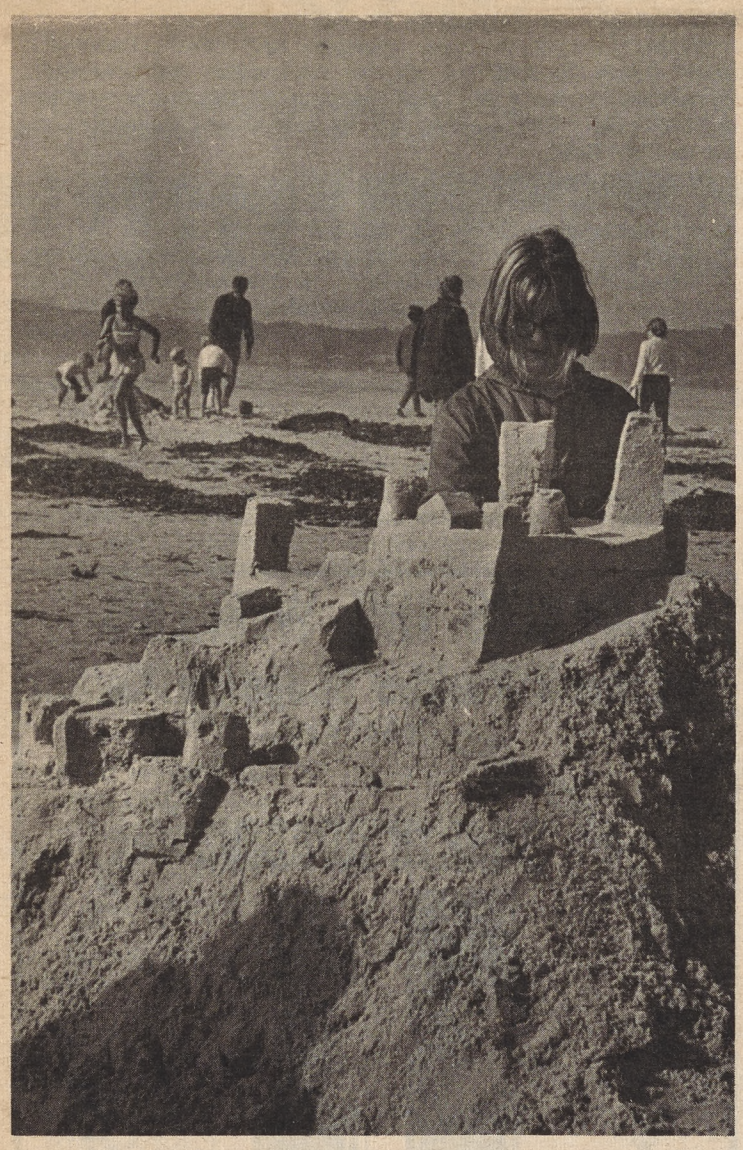
GREAT SAND CASTLE CONTEST DRAWS RECORD 375 ENTRIES



TENDER LOVING CARE went into the construction of the 375 entries in Sunday's Sand Castle contest on Carmel Beach. The beach was crowded with several thousand spectators in addition to the contestants.

ABOVE LEFT

LORNA CRAIG, a seventh grader at Middle School, does some sculpting on the family castle, "Crag-y-Nos," which is Welsh for "Rock of the Night", or "Rocky Bluff." Lorna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craig of Carmel Valley.

Grand prize was copped by a group from Fort Ord for their gigantic frog. The combined efforts of 18 or 20 men and their wives were organized under the heading Homogenous Union for Monumental Projects (HUMP). Grand Sand Marshall Don Brown gave the sour grapes award for the second year to Loren List of Pebble Beach for complaining louder and longer than anyone else. His headquarters was the striped tent with a brimming buffet table in the center of the competition.

Entries were more varied than ever with a space capsule, many pyramids and sphynx (what's the plural? Sphynxi?) a Little Red Baroness in her Sopwith Camel, serpents, large bare feet, turtles and crabs and mermaids and the traditional King Arthur's castles.

Advisory Board to meet at 8:30 Friday morning

The Upper Valley Advisory Board will meet on Friday, October 25, at 8:30 p.m. to make recommendations on items scheduled to come before the Monterey County Planning Commission at its meeting Wednesday, October 30.

On the agenda are several sign permits and use permit renewals as well as guest house applications.

On site signs for the Little European Restaurant and the temporary sign on the corner of Ford and Carmel Valley Roads for the Valley Plaza Shopping Center have been requested.

The Valley Plaza has also requested a change of zoning from C-1-D-P (Commercial with design control and parking) to "PC" or Planned Commercial, to permit development of the property in a "manner more orderly and better related to the character of the neighborhood."

The Institute for the Study of Non-Violence has applied for a renewal of use permit which expires the end of the month. The school is planning to move its quarters to Palo Alto after the first of the year. In the meantime, it hopes to continue holding weekend sessions at the Carmel Valley Road location.

P G & E have asked for a use permit to continue using the property belonging to Tom Verga, on Pilot Road as a temporary storage yard facilitating the work on the natural gas lines in the Valley.

A use permit for existing guest house to be used as dwelling prior and during construction of the main house, has been requested by Bert Heckenlaible on his property on Flight Road. The kitchen would be removed upon completion of the main house.

"Bid-Along" excitement grows as Friday night party nears

Reservations are coming in fast for the White Oaks Theatre "Bid-A-Long" auction to be held Friday at the Mark Thomas Outrigger on Cannery Row. From 7 to 9 p.m. guests will quaff top quality champagne and bid on over $11,000 worth of items ranging from a "Sweater-a-month for a year" from the Mason's in Carmel, ($180 worth) to 10 shares of mutual funds from Mink-Hanson Associates in Monterey to a cocktail party or reception for 50 valued at $250 from Lou's Casa Carmela in Carmel Valley.

Tickets at $5 are available through advance reservations only and may be had by calling either 659-4543 or 659-4093.

The Mark Thomas Outrigger is donating its services and facilities and Will's Fargo and Cork and Bottle have donated champagne. Jerry Winters and Sioux Scott, Outrigger entertainers, will be featured in a special show for "Bid-A-Long" guests.

A catalogue will be presented upon arrival, listing over 100 things available. Clip boards, mounted by each item will carry a running account of the bidding which should get fast and furious as the time progresses.

Other things which have not been mentioned previously include an antique lamp from Heritage Antiques in Carmel, an office size walnut grain refrigerator from Mr. and Mrs. Catanzaro and an umbrella table and chairs valued at $220 from Mr. and Mrs. R. Chardie.

Vacation minded guests will be interested in a weekend ski rental for two, including boots, poles and skis, one guided trip for 12 down the Arroyo Seco River, or accomodations for a family of four at the Reef Motel in Monterey.

There is also an antique garnet-centered broach from the Golden Crucible in Carmel, and a lithograph from the Pomeroy Galleries in San Francisco, one share of common stock from Lytton Industries valued at $75, and a $25 gourmet basket from the Mediterranean Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crispo (she is general chairman of the Bid-A-Long) are donating a California Sunset table, with lazy susan and four chairs, valued at $200.

Carmel Valley Community Youth Center

Do you like the snow? Or do you like to ski? Do you like to be with a group of teenagers who enjoy having fun?

If the answers to these questions are "Yes", then now is your chance to find out all the information that is needed... by coming to the "Ski Trip" meeting on October 25, (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Community Center on Ford Road.

Have YOU seen the Youth Center lately?

It looks like the Youth Center has finally taken its first step in remodeling the building.

That once over-crowded, dirty, little storage room is now a luxuriously comfortable lounge. It has comfortable chairs and a couch. Carpeting is being stored also.

There is also a TV and a phonograph which makes this room a place in which to relax.

The kitchen has also been remodeled. There is now more room to walk in!

Remember, this is ONLY the first step in making our Youth Center something worthwhile. We've come a long and hard way, - and now finally our "dream" is slowly coming true.

God bless those who have made it possible by their donations and help, which has achieved the Youth Center's remodeling.

EDITORIAL

More reasons to look twice at Rafferty

The second of the articles follows him to his first teaching job from 1940 to 1948 in the Mojave Desert town of Trona, 34 miles southwest of Death Valley. "The standing joke in the town is still: "Max Rafferty celebrated V-J Day by throwing his cane away," according to the Long Beach newspaper.

When his teacher-occupational deferment during the first 18 months of the war ended May 12, 1943, and he was reclassified 1A, he asked for and was granted an extension of the deferment until school ended the following month. He passed his physical late in June and was classified 1A. On July 5 he appealed the classification on the grounds he had flat and deformed feet, but his appeal was denied. When he reported Aug. 3, he was re-examined, classified 4F and rejected because of his feet.

He asserts he tried to get into the Navy V-12 program in 1940, but the Press-Telegram article points out that this program did not begin until July 1, 1943.

He was very successful as a football coach at Trona and later at Big Bear where he was high school principal, but "he took with him, more than anything else, a reputation as an official-baiting football coach."

In Needles, where he went next as superintendent, Rafferty rebuilt the school system to win praise in an article in the respected Christian Science Monitor: "It said Needles children were getting one of the best educations in the state. He won higher salaries for teachers, reducing annual staff turnover from 50% to 18%, and instituted a variety of innovative programs for gifted students. The Needles' football and baseball teams became powerhouses.

Although Needles' teachers still talk of Rafferty's inventive and imaginative programs for the intelligent students, the article points out, they spoke even more of his 'indifference' to the struggles of the educational disadvantaged. A senior counselor, Dan Wilson, added that Rafferty "didn't care what any students except the extraordinarily smart ones like himself accomplished.' This is a criticism made of Rafferty in every district he worked."

CONCERN WITH THE BRAINY

While superintendent of the Saticoy Elementary School District in Ventura County from 1951 to 1955, "teachers resented what several of them called his 'caste system' approach to education. 'He just ignored students who lagged behind a little. He was only concerned with the brainy kids,' says Mrs. Eunice Parr."

Rafferty's reputation for "wrathful insistence that he was right" followed him. "He has a reputation in Needles -- and throughout the state, according to Don Predovich, a school superintendent in San Diego County -- of being a 'ruthless, vindictive man who will stop at nothing to hurt anyone who crosses him'."

One speech when he became superintendent of schools in wealthy La Canada near Los Angeles in 1961 shot Rafferty into national prominence. "To halt the 'sickening trend,' " Rafferty said, "American schools must 'indoctrinate' students in patriotism. He denied 'indoctrination' was an 'ugly word', but said -- his voice crescendoing into a sneering growl -- 'if it is ugly to teach children to hate communism and its creatures like hell, then I say let's be ugly and let's revel in it'."

Southern California money men "quickly recognized the Rafferty charisma and encouraged him to run for state superintendent of public instruction upon retirement in 1962 of Dr. Roy Simpson. Rafferty stayed to put over a $3.5 million La Canada school bond issue, then barely edged Dr. Cecil Hardesty of San Diego for second spot in the state race in November 1962.

11th HOUR LIGHTNING

Although he was trailing Dr. Ralph Richardson a week before the election (as he was in the polls against Sen. Kuchel in last June's primaries), "Rafferty unleashed a torrent of last-minute newspaper advertising, televised speeches and personal appearances, 11th hour lightning," "which gave him close victories.

Dr. Richardson later reflected: "He clubbed me to death with the progressive education theme, even though progressive education hadn't been used in California for 10 years. He even got away with screaming that certain patriots and songs and quotations had been purged from California schoolbooks by the progressives when all the things he cited were in the very books his own district was using."

The facts in the Long Beach paper speak for themselves. It is encouraging that Southern Californians are beginning to get the message on the dangers of a demagogue like Max Rafferty. —WN

PERSPECTIVE

IN SHORT

DRILL COMMANDER Michael F. Burz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Burz of Carmel, led his team from the Monterey Peninsula Civil Air Patrol Cadet Squadron #70 to victory at the Saratoga Festival Parade. The squadron came home with a blue ribbon and first prize trophy.

LETTERS OF Commendation honoring them for their performance on the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test have been awarded to seven students at Carmel High School, Principal Arthur Gumbrell has announced.

Those named as Commended Students are Lindsay Broberg, John Carstensen, Douglass Forbes, Tatiana Granoff, Ann Houston, Ellen Seeburger and Judith Snyder.

They are among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1969. The Commended students rank just below the 15,000 Semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation - NMSC.

The Rhyming Philosopher

DIPLOMACY

In the land of Goss, made of gadgets and gold,
Where the Goslings are torpid believers,
They all fit into a malleable mold
Fashioned mostly by TV receivers.

Over the Pond is a country called Reyn
Where the Reynards cast envious glances
At gullible Goslings, so stupid and vain,
Who seem drugged by their own circumstances.

"Gobble the Goslings without a hot war!"
To a Reynard this slogan sounds pleasant.
"Needless are bullets to give 'em 'what for'
Since our love songs suffice for the present."

Some immature Goslings to heckle were hired
In heat of a political battle,
Confusing the people of Goss 'til inspired
To start acting like stampeded cattle.

The Candidates haggle with meaningless spiel
And scramble for patronage dollars.
Now wouldn't you think those poor Goslings could feel
Brer Reynard's hot breath down their collars?

Lynne Norton and Vaughan Monnes exchanged wedding vows Friday, Oct. 4 at a small family ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Norton of Carmel Valley.

The Rev. Karel Vit of the Unitarian Church of the Monterey Peninsula officiated at the late afternoon rites in an outdoor hillside setting.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Monnes and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Vaughan came from Long Beach, Washington, to attend. The bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Salway of Los Altos were also honored guests.

Lynne's gown was fashioned of cotton-lace with an empire bodice and long full skirt. She wore a circlet of white daisies and yellow rosebuds on her head and carried a nosegay of the same flowers.

Sandra Labes of Los Altos came from Shonto, Arizona, where she teaches at a Head Start program to be maid of honor. Lynne's younger sister, Laurie, was bridesmaid.

They wore floor length empire style silk crepe dresses with long sleeves. Sandy's was pale primrose yellow and Laurie's was a deep Siena yellow. Both girls carried nosegays of yellow daisies.

MR. AND MRS VAUGHAN MONNES

Bruce Pervine of Portland, Oregon, a graduate student at Washington State University, attended Vaughan as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Willamette University at Salem, Oregon. She spent her junior year at Trinity College, Dublin, and earned her teaching credential at U.C. Berkeley, this summer.

The bridegroom also attended Willamette and is now majoring in far-Eastern studies at the University of Washington.

Also attending were the bride's cousin, Edgar Burt and Mrs. Burt of Green Brea, Miss Hillary Pettingill of Los Altos and the bride's brother, Stephen, a student at Berkeley.

Michael Read played Elizabethan folk music to commence the ceremony and played guitar at the buffet supper which followed.

Lynne and Vaughan had a short honeymoon in Carmel before flying to Seattle where they will make their home.

Evening programs at MPC

Oceanography lecture series

"The Promise of the Ocean: New Insights and New Problems" - a five-session forum featuring as lecturers five leading authorities from the field of oceanography, will open October 23 at Monterey Peninsula College, to continue on consecutive Wednesday evenings through November 20.

The sessions, designed "to interest, intrigue and inform anyone interested in the fascinating world of the sea," will be conducted on each occasion in the MPC lecture forum, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

300 RESERVATIONS

Three hundred series registrations are available at $4 for the 5 sessions, with advance registration advised. Individual session tickets, at $1.25, will only be sold at the door if space is available. Registration fees may be mailed to the college community services office, with checks to be made payable to "Monterey Peninsula College."

OPENING SPEAKER

Dr. Eric G. Barham, supervisory oceanographer, Naval Undersea Warfare Center (Marine Environment Division), San Diego, will open the forum October 23 with an illustrated lecture on "Exploring the Deep Sea with Manned Submersibles."

Using the deep ocean submersibles Trieste I, Trieste II, the Cousteau diving saucer, the French Navy's Archimede and now the Deepstar, Dr. Barham has been able to observe directly many of the mysterious organisms that inhabit the "deep scattering layer" of the sea.

A graduate of San Diego State College, he worked as a research assistant on an Office of Naval Research contract at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station.

A qualified scuba diver, he has used this skill to make studies of marine life.

OTHER LECTURES

Other lecturers in the series will include:

Dr. John P. Harville, director, Moss Landing Marine Laboratories, on "Monterey Bay - Genesis or Decay?" - Oct. 30; Dr. Oscar Sette, laboratory director, Ocean Research Laboratory, Stanford University, on "World Competition for Seafood Resources - Its Effect on Evolution of the 'Law of the Sea'" - Nov. 6; Dr. John R. Phillips, Jr., director and professor of biology, Hopkins Marine Station, on "Biomedical Marine Research - Drugs from the Sea" - Nov. 13; and Dr. Peter R. Tatro, research oceanographer, Fleet Numerical Weather Central, Monterey, on "Forecasting Ocean Weather" - Nov. 20.

French intelligence chief to speak on the Sapphire Affair

PHILIPPE VOSJOLI

Philippe T. De Vosjoli, chief of French Intelligence in the United States from 1951 to 1963, will speak on "The Sapphire Affair" at Monterey Peninsula College Friday, Oct. 25.

Cover man on the April 26, 1968 issue of LIFE when the story, "The French Spy Scandal" was headlined, De Vosjoli has been compared to "a character in an Ian Fleming thriller". LOOK also published his accusation of "The Spies Around de Gaulle."

"The CIA and other U.S. security agencies refuse to discuss the De Vosjoli case, but they give every indication of believing that his accusations are true. Even today, the CIA operates its worldwide intelligence network with the conviction that any important secret communicated to the French is leaked to the Soviets within a matter of hours."

"This bizarre case, which forms the background of Leon Uris' best-selling novel 'Topaz' has created an atmosphere of increasing bitterness and acrimony around French-American relations."

"Phillipe De Vosjoli has lived the story; now, he puts it on the public record."

His lecture, set for 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory at MPC, will replace one scheduled by William Penn Patrick, millionaire politician. Patrick, who was to have spoken Oct. 23, has cancelled his appearance "due to commitments in Europe."

Japanese violinist to play on Saturday

A young Japanese violinist, Takako Nishizaki, will appear in concert Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8:30 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

Tickets at $1 for general admission and 75 cents for students, are available at the MPC community services office or may be purchased at the door.

Miss Nishizaki was born in Nagoya, Japan, and performed as a child prodigy in Tokyo. Her father, a Suzuki disciple, was her first teacher.

In April, 1964, at the age of 20, Takako entered the 23rd Leventritt International Competition for violinists. It was her first competition, and she was a successful finalist.

Her MPC concert will include selections by Vivaldi, Cesar Franck, Norman Dello Joio, Mozart, Elgar and Sarasate.

CARL DOLMETSCH, left, and Joseph Saxby, right, will be presented in a concert this Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Carmel Museum of Art, by the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society. Dolmetsch will play recorders and treble viol and Saxby will perform on the harpsichord, spinet and piano.

Studio Theatre

Another funny Simon play to open in Carmel

The funny lines in Neil Simon's "The Star-Spangled Girl" opening Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel, are fairly distributed among its three characters, two young editors of a protest magazine and the dazzling Olympic swimmer whose arrival imperils both friendship and publication.

As one of Fallout's editors, Beau Stark (Andy) draws on a broad theatrical background. He played the lead role of Tony in last summer's production of "The Boy Friend" at the Studio, following parts in "The Madwoman of Chaillot" "The Rainmaker", "The Gazebo" and "Harvey" at the Circle.

A founding director of the Presidio Players, he directed and starred in their all-Russian version of "Firebird". He has also performed with the famed Barter Theatre of Abingdon, Virginia, and appeared in two off-Broadway shows.

Rick Poe (Norman), the other editor, played Mike in the Studio production of "Wait Until Dark" last spring. A graduate of the University of San Francisco, he now is an officer at Fort Ord.

Toni MacDonald (Sophie) is making her local stage debut in the Connie Stevens role of the highly patriotic Arkansan who deals a near-fatal blow to Fallout and to the friendship between its publishers. She majored in theatre arts at San Fernando State and studied acting with Jeff Corey two years in Hollywood.

Under the direction of Dave Kirk, "The Star-Spangled Girl" will enliven the Studio for 8 weekends. Reservations may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321, with a reminder of the innovation on a trial basis of the 7:30 curtain Sunday nights only, continuing 8:30 on Friday and Saturday.

Pro football trip on Nov. 3

There is still time to sign up for the trip to the Oakland Raiders-Kansas City pro football game Sunday Nov. 3.

Price of $14.00 includes a $5.50 reserved ticket, lunch, choice of drinks and bus transportation.

Reservations can be made by calling Nick Skalyo, Village Liquors, 659-4414; Sam Corona, Village Market, 659-4228, or Charles Wall, 624-2080.

South African film at Sunset

"RIVERS OF FIRE AND ICE" a two hour color, travel and adventure film will be narrated in person by its photographer, Ronald Shanin at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, October 24 at the Sunset Auditorium.

The film includes footage taken in South Africa, Zambia, Rhodesia, Tanzania, Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda and the Congo.

Reserved seats are available at Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey. Tickets will also go on sale at Sunset Box Office.

Mystery-comedy film at MPC

"The Gorilla," a mystery-comedy in which Ralph Bellamy starred on Broadway and on tour, will be staged by the Monterey Peninsula College players Oct. 24, 25 and 26, and the following week on Oct. 30 and 31 and Nov. 1 and 2.

Directed by Ross Durfee of the MPC drama department, the leading roles are taken by students Conrad Selvig, as Stevens, the prospective "angel"; Greg Niebel, as the playwright; Miltie Vega, as his girl, a Vassar graduate; Jolen Bowen, as the maid; John Rousseau and David J. Drakos, detectives who provide most of the fun; and Carol J. Green as a girl reporter. Other roles are played by Dean Funk, Norm Fagan, Jim Guice and Rob Sutherland.

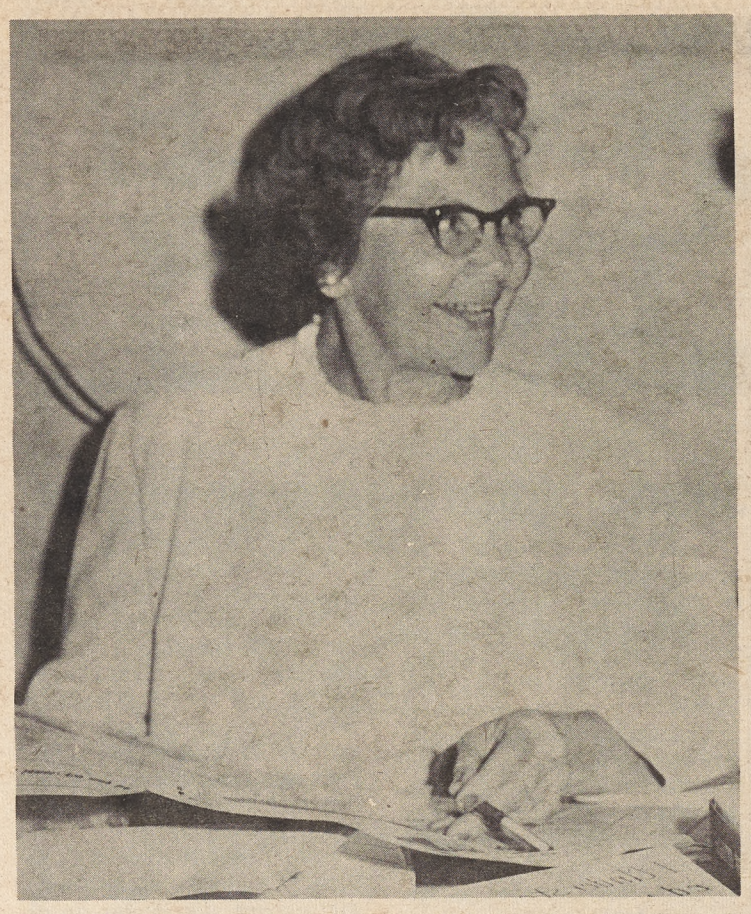
Get rid of those Mond
by giving blood at th



MRS. THOMAS MCKIERNON, C.V. Blood Bank Chairman, has been a dedicated worker since 1959 when she took over the job from Ken Sentner, now deceased. Over the years she has spent literally thousands of hours in administrative duties plus doing anything at all that needed to be done. Mrs. McKiernon, who was in a serious accident years ago, was the recipient of much blood which saved her life. Still striving toward that seemingly unattainable goal of 100 donors, she urges those who are able to give blood to come to the Fire House (reservations not necessary) between the hours of 3 and 6:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 28. She will be glad to answer any questions of prospective donors and extends a special invitation to new people in the Valley and to those who have never given blood in the past. (Phone - 659-2833) "Giving blood to save someone's life is a wonderful way to dispel Monday blues," she says.

TYPICAL SCENE at the C.V. Firehouse converted into a Blood Bank is the line of donors awaiting their turn. At the last drawing 95 people came to give blood and three were rejected.

EAGER TO GIVE blood but not accepted as a donor is Mrs. W.D. Jackson with her infant son, Randolph. Every precaution is taken by the Red Cross to protect the health of the donor. Mothers of babies less than a year old are not accepted.

HURT A BIT", says Dr. John Taylor to Mrs. Erasimo Bellici. Refresh- versation lend a social atmosphere to the occasion.

LOUIS GARDNER, WHO has just received his 2 gallon pin, accepts congratulations from Mrs. Ken Van Hagen holding Cheryl Goold. Minding babies, serving coffee and being helpful in general is the job of several ladies always present at the Blood Bank.

BROTHERS THREE, from left, Charles, William and Alex Olmstead came to the Blood Bank together in order to replace blood which had been received by a relative. Persons who wish to replace blood for friends and relatives elsewhere in the country may do so at the Red Cross Blood Bank. Mrs. Paul Porter takes their temperatures and pulse.

FORMER JOURNALISM STUDENT Pattie McKiernon and Carmel High School teacher Wally LeValley, talking over old times, strike an old fashioned pose for the camera.

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD Howard Buck was a donor with the consent of his parents at the last drawing. Now parental consent is unnecessary due to a change in requirements and 18, 19 and 20 year olds may give if they are in good health. The age limit has been extended and donors may give until their 61st birthday. Mrs. Paul Porter takes Howard's temperature and pulse.

SEVERAL CHILDREN waiting for their parents realize the seriousness of the occasion and sit quietly watching the proceedings with intense interest.

THE HILLSIDE AT the Hilton house drops away rapidly. Redwood fencing combined with "see-through" mesh and low flat planters keep out the deer, and confine the yard without cutting off the vista.

CIRCULAR ADOBE brick planters were made purposely low to the ground so as not to obstruct the sweeping view from the Randolph Hilton house, high atop Country Club Drive. The lawn planting and patio paving repeat the circular motif.

A RETAINING WALL of stone contrasts with small pebbles and adobe brick steps at the Joan Baez home in Los Ranchitos. Tucker has a regular crew of eight who specialize in rock work, carpentry, etc.

Environmental design is Ilbert Tucker's forte

Ilbert Tucker majored in horticulture at University of California at Davis, but for several years he didn't pursue this inclination.

Then he got back on the path (garden path, that is) and spent about five years as a landscape gardener.

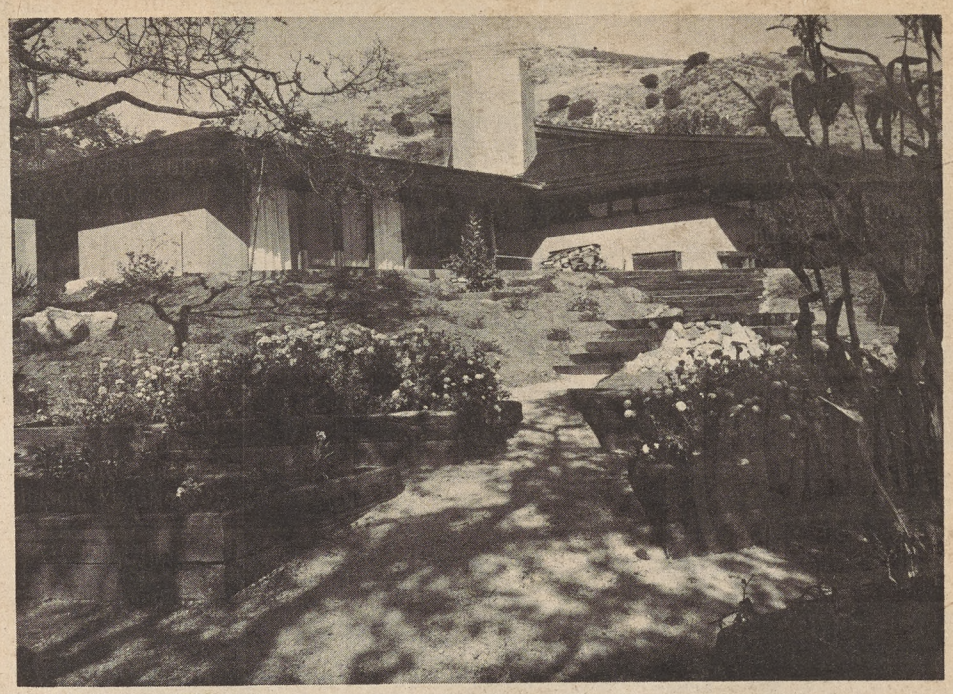
This practical experience plus his University training prompted him to go into business for himself... not just as a landscape designer, but in an even more creative and flexible way.

Seeing the trend in today's landscaping business toward the cheap and insufficient, Ilbert Tucker decided he wanted "to make something beautiful and to do it right." For this purpose Ilbert has brought together a group of enthusiastic, hard-working young men who are craftsmen in their fields and for whom creativeness and a sense of personal involvement in the work they are doing is very important.

One great advantage of such an arrangement is that when a plan leaves the drawing-board it is not an absolute dictum (which often leads to an imposition of the plan upon the land) but it is an arrangement which permits the crew to most perfectly fit the design to the particular environment as they encounter the unfolding realities of the actual installation.

A native of California, born and raised in Taft, Tucker has lived in Berkeley and Monterey before moving to Carmel Valley three and a half years ago. He and his wife, Margaret, have three children-Rosalind, age six; next, Hardwin, age three and then Reynold who is ten months.

If enjoying what you are doing is any criterion of success, then Ilbert Tucker should be most successful in his business venture, for in this one can see the hand of a creativity plus know-how.



AT RUTH DODD'S home on Country Club Drive Tucker made use of "railroad ties" as steps and planter walls, giving a rustic and casual appearance to the confined garden areas.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

EASTERN TRIP

Home from a trip to the East is Mrs. Loring K. Warner of Punte del Monte in Robles del Rio, She accompanied Mrs. Francis Bryon of Seattle, an old friend from Army days, who had been the Warners' houseguest. The two ladies motored to Yosemite, which is dry but lovely this time of year, and "camped out with the bears."

Continuing to Colorado, they drove through Black Canyon of the Gunnison. The park which proved to be as dark and foreboding as its name implied, exited into the most beautiful array of fall foliage. Aspen trees in three shades of yellow, orange and with a shocking red contrast, were at their peak the remainder of their journey across the "Mountain State".

Mrs. Warner stopped at Colorado Springs to visit her grandsons, Carl and Doug Wheat, who are enrolled at Colorado College. Other visits were made with her daughter, Mrs. Mark Nelson, in Philadelphia, and with her other daughter, Mrs. Francis Wheat, in Washington, D.C., from where she enplaned to return to the Peninsula.

NEW NEIGHBOR

A warm Valley welcome to new neighbors on Story Road, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chappell who have purchased the home formerly owned by the Russell Stolfi family. Natives of Washington, D.C., they have chosen the Valley for their retirement home.

Mr. Chappell is a former principal and Mrs. Chappell was with the General Accounting Office in Washington.

Delighted that they have selected a home in our area are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones of El Hemorro. Ann Jones and Dodie Chappell are sisters. The new family are also looking forward to visits on Story Road with their daughter and three grandchildren who live in San Diego.

NEW HOME

Kathryn and Russell Stolfi are settled in their beautiful new residence with a 360 degree view, high in the Rancho Tierra Grande area. With their children, Katrin, Gretchen, and Dernet, they are thoroughly enjoying all aspects of their new home. Kathryn confesses "Unlike many who have built their own home only to be disappointed with various features, and wish for changes, we are just so happy with the end results that we feel a party for our builder would be far more in order than a house warming!"

The only member of the family who does not seem to be caught up in the advantageous living of Tierra Grande (Via Cicindela to be exact) is their cat, "Jager" who as of this writing is on his fourth trip to their former home on Story Road.

"Jager" which means 'hunter although the Stolfis had mice in mind at the time, NOT hunting for former homes, is described as an "Alley cat" and should certainly be brought to the attention of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce for his devotion to UPPER Valley living!

GET WELL!

Get well messages would be most welcome for Joe Clark who is a patient at the Veterans' Hospital in Palo Alto and for Major (ret.) Billie Mans who is a patient following surgery at the Fort Ord Hospital. A speedy recovery!

GRANDPARENTS AGAIN!

September was a big month for the Jack Nielsens of the Outlook staff... They became grandparents three times.

On September 5, Mr. and Mrs. Brent Nielsen of Palo Alto presented Jack and Marge with a granddaughter. Mr. and Mrs. Geoffry Nielsen of Monterey, followed with a boy, born on September 19, and the third grandchild, another boy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nielsen of San Jose on September 23.

This makes a grand total of seven for Marge and Jack.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Nielsen of Salinas.

HONEYMOON

Honeymooning in Carmel Valley have been Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ricker who returned on a Tuesday flight to their home in Long Island, New York.

Mrs. Dorothy Linares of Village Drive, an aunt of the bride, flew east to attend the ceremony performed in Brockton, Mass. and presented the newlyweds with the key to her apartment at the Village Manor Apts. Gail and Bob were the dinner guests of Don Draper at Lou's Casa Carmelo and entertained by her cousin, his wife Kaye and the Draper children at their home on Rancho Road.

CHAPEL BRIDGE

The "tricks" were taken by the players and the "treats" were in the bags of Hallowe'en candies placed on each table at the October Benefit Bridge and Canasta party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild.

Hostess Mrs. Leon Amyx and her assistant Mrs. Margaret Buchholder, had drawn from the wonderful orange and black motif of the 31st for their table decor. Hallowe'en napkins and place mats complemented the clever black flower pots filled with miniature succulent gardens topped by a jolly jack-o-lantern.

These were awarded as table prizes to Mmes. Bonnie Anderson, Kaye Coleman, Amanda Hunsaker, Ruth Wade, Jean De Haas, Doreen McKenzie and Barbara Wade.

Prizes were awarded to Adele Hughes for high in bridge, second in bridge to Mrs. Barbara Robbins, and the canasta to Doreen McKenzie.

Among the players who made up six tables of bridge and two of canasta were Mrs. Frankie Little of Sacramento who is the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Doris Bundgard, Bonnie Anderson who drives all the way from Princes Camp, and two new ladies in the group Mrs. Lydia Wright and Mrs. Mary Sprague.

NOSTALGIA

A drive down the Valley in the fall never fails to uncover happy harvest memories lurking in one's subconscious. There is something about the festive array of cornstalks, fields of pumpkins and scarecrows at Wolter's that always brings to mind past football games, rallies and bonfires, pumpkin pies and hot mulled cider - in fact all of the pre-protest trivia from the days when "taking a trip" meant nothing more devilish than a hike through the woods to crunch fall leaves underfoot.

This year the picturesque wagon at Martins' Fruit Stand is a traffic stopper and their

Monterey cypress tree decorated with miniature pumpkins qualifies for "only in California"!...and did you know that October 13-19 was National School Lunch Week?

Observed each year since 1963, it attempts to focus nationwide attention on the important part the school lunch program plays in the total education and good health of today's child. The week set nationally, however, did not take into consideration the plumbing at Tularcitos which involved a dishwashing crisis for Mrs. Wilmot and her staff in the cafeteria!...Too bad that the judges for the booths at the Del Monte Center Community Fair did not include a few children, because the St. Dunstan's Episcopal booth called Pooh Corner with Winnie, Eeyore, Rabbit, Tiger and all the cast would surely have won hands down.

HALLOWE'EN MOTIF

Candles illuminating carved pumpkin faces, black and orange tapers, and Halloween candies decorated the dinner tables at the Los Laureles Lodge dining room for the October meeting of the Carmel Valley Lionettes. Mrs. George Glendenning, hostess for the affair, awarded the door prize to Mrs. John Koon and celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Kenneth Korver...

Guest speaker was the new youth director for the CVYO, Carl Cecka. Among forthcoming things planned was the Governor's Ball to be held Oct. 26 in San Martin.

ST. BERNARD JOY

There was jubilation at the West Carmel Valley Road home of the Bill Hancpols following the 4-1 decision of the County Board of Supervisors which allows them to keep their five beloved Saint Bernards. Bill is not certain if it was people among those protesting who kept goats and thousands of chickens on their property or if it was the number of supporters that helped with the decision in their favor, but they are most grateful to everyone who came to their assistance.

The stars in the Hancpol horoscope were just unbeatable last Tuesday because in addition to winning their case, they received word that Bill has been awarded a trip for two to New Orleans for his Singer Sales.

SOUTH AFRICAN GUESTS

While exploring the de Chelly desert of Arizona via jeep, Elizabeth and Adolph Friedenthal of Carmel Valley met Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Benjamin of Johannesburg, South Africa! Their paths crossed several times at points including the Petrified Forest and they invited their new-found friends to visit the Friedenthal home on Horizon Way.

The Benjamins are on a world tour. They flew from Johannesburg to New York where they purchased a car, to continue by motoring. From the Valley they were going to San Francisco which will complete their tour of the United States. Their car was to be shipped home to Johannesburg and they were continuing their trip via plane.

The Valleyites had just returned from a six-weeks visit to the Grand Canyon, Bryce and Zion. Formerly known as Col. Friedenthal, Al now has a new name which he cannot pronounce, but it means "Big Hawk!" One day on one of their tours, their Najavo guide picked up a hawk's feather, stuck it in Al's hat and named him, "Big Hawk" (ret.)!

RETIRED SHERIFF

Lt. Clarence (Buck) Wardle has retired and turned over the command of the first watch, midnight to 8 a.m., of the Monterey County Sheriff's Department to Lt. Harry E. Stewart. Buck, on his patrols of the Valley during his days as a sergeant became acquainted (both officially and unofficially) with a good portion of the residents.

He plans to use his well-earned retirement years for traveling (he has just returned from a visit with his parents in Oregon) and enjoying the family nome on Asilomar in Pacific Grove.

HARRY WOLFE

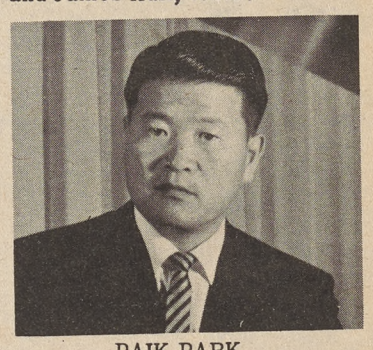
Word has reached the Outlook of the death in Ohio of Harry H. Wolfe of Holman Road, Carmel Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe spent part of the year here and the other part in Celina, Ohio, where he passed away on October 8, after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Wolfe was born on October 25, 1885. He is survived by his widow and daughter, Mrs. John L. Holmes of Rancho Fiesta Road.

Other survivors include a brother, Clarence of Michigan and a sister, Mrs. Lillian White of Ohio; two grandchildren, Mrs. Jack Copeland of Los Altos and Bob Holmes of San Jose, and one great grandchild Jack Patrick Copeland of Los Altos.

Paik Park in Chapel concert with James Hull

The seventh in a series of concerts for the Community Chapel organ fund will star Paik Park, concert pianist, and James Hull, tenor.



PAIK PARK

Mr. Park will play Chopin nocturnes and a Weber concerto, accompanied by Mrs. Park. He is a native Korean, trained at the Minsashino Academy in Tokyo, and has been musical director of the Chapel for several years.

Mr. Hull will sing a number of operatic and lyrical songs, accompanied by William Purdy on the piano. A well-known Peninsula tenor for his work at Carmel Bach Festivals, Mr. Hull also teaches school in Marina.

More Helpful Tips from PG&E:
"Clip and Save"

1. Weatherstrip. Weatherstripping around doors and windows plugs heat leaks and keeps cold air outside. A doorjamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need a thick felt stripping.

2. Have your heating system checked now. Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. Call your furnace man. He'll make sure your furnace is in safe working order with your gas pilots operating.

3. Change filters, too. Most forced air furnaces have filters to trap dust. For maximum heat flow they should be replaced every six months. Clean dust and lint out of wall and floor heaters periodically, too.

4. Set your thermostat—and leave it. Frequent changes in room temperature settings mean a bigger heating bill. Agree on a healthy thermostat setting and leave it there. If Junior says he's cold, put a sweater on him.

5. Insulate. Insulate floors and ceilings and you'll cut heating costs up to 45%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—it often pays for itself in just a few seasons.

6. Close dampers and drapes. When not using your fireplace, close the damper. If you leave it open, heat escapes. Also, 16% of your heat can be lost through windows with open drapes.

Bigger bills, but lower rates. Your bigger winter bills are caused by more heating and lighting, more TV watching, more hot meals and more appliances in use.

But there have been six reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates in the past five years. So summer and winter, your PG&E service is a bigger family bargain than ever.

Martin Luther film will be shown

Reformation Sunday will be celebrated at St. Philip's Lutheran Church with the showing of the Martin Luther film at 7 p.m. Sunday, October 27.

The film presents the happening of the Reformation in its historic setting of the fifteen hundreds. It documents the reformer's life from the decision for monastic life through the months of the break with the Church of that day.

The public is invited without admission charge.
